[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JULY 25.

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

TROOPS MASSING AROUND STRASBURG.

Alleged Proposition by France to Prussia.

AN OFFER TO FORM AN ALLIANCE AND DIVIDE THE SPOILS.

BY THE CABLES.

LONDON, July 24.—Prussian vessels are cruising in the Channel and the North Sea to intercept supplies of coal for the French fleet.

The Bank of Frankfort has loaned five million thalers with deposits of American stocks as security.

The Times adheres to the policy of treating the neutrality of shipping the same as in 1854, no regard being paid to the Paris Convention.

A dispatch received via Paris to-day, dated Forbach, Department of Moselle, July 23d, says the Prussians were repulsed at Catlin, and a reconnoisance on Prussian soil has been made by French troops.

BERLIN, July 24.—Italy issued a proclamation of neutrality at Florence to day. There have been demonstrations in favor of Prussia in Milan, Padua and Genoa.

DUBLIN, July 24.—A great demonstration was made here last night in favor of the French. A meeting of 5,000 people was addressed by prominent men.

FRANKFORT, July 23.—American stocks strong at 77.

BERLIN, July 24.—The only written document Prussia has received from France since the beginning of the quarrel, was received at Berlin on Tuesday last, which was a declaration of war. It declares that the Emperor of the French is obliged to consider the proposal to elevate a Prussian Prince to the throne of Spain as an attack on the security of France, and he denies Prussia the privilege of reserving the right to be governed by circumstances. The Emperor says he is forced to consider this determination as equally menacing to France and the European equilibrium, and particularly as it was rendered more significant by a communication made by Prussia to the cabinets of Europe, giving an account of the refusal to receive the French Ambassador. The paper concludes: "The French Government, therefore, is taking steps for the defense of its honor and injured interests, and having adopted all measures which circumstances render necessary, considers itself at war with Prussia."

PARIS, July 24.—A special to the New York Herald from Paris, says it is predicted that the Emperor will proclaim a Republic throughout Europe if a coalition is formed against him. Prussia is threatening Denmark. Guns are being placed upon the fortifications at Paris.

COBLENTZ, July 24.—A Prussian force from Saar Louis has crossed the French border to make a reconnoisance in the direction of St. Avoid and Metz. After proceeding some distance, they encountered an outpost of the enemy and had a brisk skirmish with a force of French chasseurs. The Prussians retired, leaving two men on the field. It is believed that the French lost ten or twelve, killed. It is confidently stated that the Prussians are strengthening Coblentz only with the intention of making it a base of operations, and they intend to throw a force down the line of Saarburg and carry the war into France.

LONDON, July 25.—A special correspondent writes from Metz, under date of 21st, that three camps have been formed around that city. Sixty cannon are being placed in position. Ditches and casements for bomb-proof barracks, and everything connected with a fort, are being constructed on an immense scale.

A correspondent writing from Paris says that Prussian troops were passing through the Black Forest towards Basle. Detachments had been stopped by the Swiss authorities, who have an observation corps of 20,000 men.

General McMahon's headquarters were at Strasbourg. A strong force was massing to prevent surprise through Vogues du Fils. Troops were pouring into Strasbourg from Bisancon, and everything indicates that the first general blow will be struck in the vicinity of Strasbourg. A great force had already arrived at Strasbourg, which had been transferred by railway.

A French frigate had been dispatched to the Scotch coast to recruit seamen from the fisheries.

The French war office are taking extraordinary precautions to preserve secrecy.

A special dispatch from Paris to the Daily News, dated Saturday last, says France is resolved to force Denmark into hostilities against Prussia, notwithstanding the determination of the Danish Cabinet to remain neutral. A French fleet will soon appear before Copenhagen and make a movement to overthrow the ministry and save the Danes from Prussia in spite of themselves.

PARIS, July 25.—The Journal Officiel publishes a decree nominating Viscount G. de Trichard for French Minister at Washington.

LONDON, July 25.—A fleet sailed to-day to reinforce that of Cherbourg.

A gradual evacuation of Rome has been decided upon. One hundred and ten thousand volunteers are already enrolled in France. It is now tolerably certain that Duke Palikao will be Commander-in-chief of the army of the Baltic.

The Journal Officiel contains a decree closing the session of the Senate and Corps Legislatif.

LONDON, July 25.—The Times publishes a projected treaty submitted by the French to the Prussian Government, and guarrantees its authenticity. The preamble sets forth that the King of Prussia and the Emperor of the French in order to strengthen friendship, etc., conclude the subjoined treaty: In the first article Napoleon admits and recognizes the late acquisitions of Prussia from Austria. Second, the Prussian King engages to facilitate French acquisition of Luxemburg. Third, the Emperor acquiesces in the union of the North and South German States, Austria excepted. Fourth, France finding it necessary to absorb Belgium, Prussia lends her assistance to that measure. The fifth is the usual article of offensive and defensive alliance between the two nations.

The inhabitants of Morden, Rey and other islands near the mouth of Elbe have been removed in order to leave the French fleet in those waters without experienced pilots.

Information has been received that on Sunday a party of German lancers passed the border near Saarbrucken, tore up rails for a long distance on the Metz railroad, destroyed a viaduct and returned to camp without loss.

The French are concentrating at Dunkirk on the coast near the Belgian frontier.

PARIS, July 25.—The journals of Metz say that the French have taken forty prisoners thus far.

MADRID, July 25.—The existence of a treaty, offensive and defensive, between Spain and France is denied by the official organs, but reasserted by other journals nevertheless.

DUBLIN, July 25.—The sympathy of Ireland is almost unanimously with France.

FLORENCE, July 25.—The Italian Chambers have passed a law authorizing negotiations for a loan of six million livres.

LONDON, July 25.—The tone in official circles is rather too indifferent about protecting Belgian neutrality. English relations with France are less strained than a few days since. Some fears are expressed that the Government will be found to have been too deferential to Napoleon.

Disturbances in North Carolina.

NEW YORK, July 24.—The Secretary of the North Carolina Republican Committee telegraphed from Raleigh last night that the Ku-klux fired into a company of negro militia, camped on the square. The militia returned the fire. Subsequently, a company of white militia in passing, not answering the sentinel, were also fired into by mistake. The militia slept on their arms.

CHICAGO, July 24.—A Washington special says that the President, in response to the request of ex-U. S. Senator Brown, of North Carolina, who applied for the interference of the militia in that State, informed him that he could not interfere except by request of the Governor or Legislature.

The Mails to Germany.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The German and Hamburg lines of steamers having been suspended, the letters heretofore going by direct routes, will be sent by closed mail via England, under old rates, until the war closes.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, July 25.—A Washington special says it is understood that Mr. Frelinghuysen has reconsidered his decision to accept the English mission and will hold his acceptance an open question. The probability is he will decline on account of personal business consideration.

Viscount De Trichard, appointed French Minister at Washington, vice Paradol, was Secretary of Legation here several years ago and is now Minister to Chili.

The Postoffice Department has declined the offer of a contract from the Cunard line to carry the American mails, and they will be forwarded hereafter by the Inman, Williams and Guion line, landing at Queenstown and Liverpool.

MEXICO.

Juarez Declines a Re-Election.

MEXICO, July 11 (via Havana, 16th.—It is reported that Juarez declines a re-election, and will exercise his influence in favor of Lerdo de Tejada. The people in the northern States refuse to support Escobedo. The most prominent opposition candidate is Porfirio Diaz. A Protestant Church was inaugurated in the village of Cosala. The reported destruction and flight of Martinez's army is untrue. He has a respectable force operating in the State of San Luis.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Some heavy orders for the coming wine crop have already been received from the East. Landsberger & Co. received one order yesterday for 100,000 gallons of selected white wine, and 10,000 gallons of brandy for a New York house not in the liquor trade to be filled from vintage of 1870. This will cost about $56,000, and is probably the heaviest single order ever received for California wines.

There is considerable talk about the Lower California expedition, which will get off in a few days.

The demands for duties for the past week were $155,432 28; previously this year, $4,334,576 82; total since January 1st, $4,490,009 10.

Mrs. Susan B. Coon, whose husband, while in the employ of Marie & Cushman, stock brokers, proved a defaulter, causing them a heavy loss, brings a suit against the Bulletin for $10,000 and the Alta for $20,000, for alleged libel in their accounts of the affair, in which it is intimated that she was a party to the fraud.

The ship Frolic went up to Vallejo to-day to load with wheat for Europe.

M. Matich, administrator of the estate of Natole Motrovich, sues D. Ghirardelli for $14,560, moneys which he alleges the defendant, as assistant administrator, received from the estate and applied to his own use.

Thomas Collon, of this city, has nearly completed a repeating rifle which will discharge forty shots per minute, safely and accurately. He will patent it immediately.

The officers of H. B. M. war steamer Zealous will give a dinner to a party of citizens on board that vessel on the 27th inst.

The Democratic primaries passed off quietly this afternoon. It is impossible to tell to-night what candidates have secured a majority of delegates.

Two actors met on the corner of Kearny and Washington street this evening. One knocked the other down, beat him very severely and kicked him in the face. Cause, a woman.

Interior California Dispatches.

SAN MATEO, July 25, 2 P. M.—A fire broke out in the private residence of A. H. Jordan, completely destroying the house and most of the contents. The loss exceeds $18,000. Insured in the Liverpool, London and Globe, for $14,000. The house was built eight months ago, at a cost of $16,000. The library, acknowledged to be the most valuable on the coast, was mostly saved.

GRASS VALLEY, July 25.—The prize fight between Andrew Steele and John Rogers to-day, was fought very rapidly; Rogers went to grass very often, and by strategy won the fight. Twelve rounds were fought in twelve minutes. Rogers was winner. When the 13th round was called, Steele came forward on his face, in a fainting condition, and Rogers was so well preserved that he leaped over the ropes and ran over the hill. Steele was badly cut over the left temple and received severe blows on the body; stakes, $200 aside and $80 added after the ring money was divided.

PLACERVILLE, July 25.—Mr. Gavett an old citizen of this place was seriously injured this morning by the accidental discharge of his gun. The charge took effect in his jaw, breaking it and lacerating his face in a fearful manner.

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—At a meeting of the French citizens last evening nearly $500 was subscribed toward the relief of French soldiers who may be wounded in the war against Prussia.

Veteran Prussian soldiers are applying to the Prussian Consul General at San Francisco for transportation to Prussia to join the army.

In the County Court to-day Trinidad Cistro, charged with stealing 21 horses, was found guilty.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA CITY, July 25.—The product of the Hope mine is now upward of $70,000 per month. The daily yield of Chollar is 300 tons and assays $62 per ton.

AUSTIN, July 25.—On Friday and Saturday W. F. & Co shipped 17 bars of bullion valued at $18,751 05. Of this seven bars valued at $4,658 34 were from Belmont. Ore for the amount of $400,000 in the vicinity of Austin is awaiting reduction.

New England Sentiment on the Chinese Question.

New England papers generally, without distinction of party, discuss the Chinese question in a moderate tone and sensible manner. The average sentiment of New England on the subject seems to be expressed in the following extract from the Portland (Maine) Transcript, a literary paper:

Unless it is proposed to fence in our country with a Chinese wall, and require certificates of character of all who enter our gates, we do not see what can be done to prevent their coming, so far as they come voluntarily. Something may be done, and ought to be done, to prevent their being enticed hither under false pretences, and held to labor on terms the full force of which they could not understand when they signed them. But when they come of their own accord, knowing what they are about, all we can do is to receive them kindly, and treat them as we treat all other citizens, of whatever nationality. Are they Pagans? As Christians we should rejoice in saving the expense of sending missionaries to the Antipodes to reach them. Do some of them lie and steal? Let them by all means be stoned by those of us who belong to a race which was never guilty of such crimes! To all others we say, "Hands off." Do they drink liquor and eat opium? Here in Maine ought to be just the place to reform them. Are they so frugal and their expenses so small they can afford to work cheaper than we can? Let them do our drudgery. The poorest of us can afford to hire a servant. Just in the proportion they reduce the price of labor, in that proportion they reduce the cost of living, and laborers are benefited. The hue and cry raised against them by workingmen is, in the light of sound science, as absurd and irrational as the old cry against improved machinery and, on the score of morals, is as wicked as the New York mobbing of the negroes during the war. There is enough for all to do.

The extensive collection of curiosities now in the possession of the American Museum of Natural History in New York, numbering about 13,000 specimens, is soon to have an appropriate place of exhibition in Central Park.

Another spring has developed at Saratoga.

THE SITUATION IN CUBA.

THE NATIVES FOR INDEPENDENCE—CUBA AND THE UNITED STATES—INDEPENDENCE OF THE ISLAND ONLY A QUESTION OF TIME.

Havana (June 25) Cor. N. Y. Times.]

The native population are almost unanimous for independence, secretly if not openly; and as every one born in Cuba, even though of Spanish parentage, is suspected and watched, and the Spaniards so outspoken and bitter in their indiscriminate denunciations of them on all occasions, they cannot, if they would, affiliate with them nor sympathize with them, even when all their interests are on that side. The Spanish Government having never allowed the natives to participate in the honors or emoluments of office, or rarely to take any part in the councils or in framing the laws by which they have been governed, this process of alienation has been increasing with the increase of population and the increase of wealth and importance of the island. It is but the natural result of that false and despotic system of government practiced by Spain in all her American colonies, and which caused them to rise one after another, and shake off the Spanish yoke. To expect any other result in Cuba now would be contrary to human nature and to our reason and judgment. It is merely a question of time.

CUBA'S POSSIBLE FUTURE.

Spain has never profited by all her sad experience in her American colonies. Long after they had actually gained their independence, and had been acknowledged by all the principal Governments in Europe and America, she refused to admit it, or to have any intercourse with them; and thus so completely alienated them that commerce between them has never been resumed, and if she would even now yield, and accept of what is so generally believed to be inevitable and give them their freedom, she could make favorable terms, and in so doing secure an exchange of her products in the future for the sugar which she sends and has received exclusive from Cuba. But the old Castilian pride still predominates in the hearts of the people, and still rules in the councils of the nation in the government of her colonies, notwithstanding the great reforms made at home; and if she cannot save it, will do her utmost to destroy it; and in prolonging the contest will destroy the industry of the country and create in the Cubans, as she did among her other American colonists, such a love for military honors and political power among the leading men that her future may be read in the past history of Mexico, Venezuela, Buenos Ayres, Paraguay, and other Spanish-American Republics.

CUBA AND THE UNITED STATES.

I do not, however, think as many do, that our Government ought of right, or is in duty bound to interfere in any way in the struggle. Indeed, I believe the cause of the Cubans has been damaged rather than bettered by the angry discussion in Congress, and by agitating the subject among our people. It has goaded the Government and citizens of Spain into madness and desperation. The have treated the Cubans as outlaws, and have in turn been outlawed. Spain will not yield until her resources are exhausted and her credit destroyed unless her rural population, who are now the greatest sufferers, cry out against sending any more recruits there to become victims to the obstinacy of their rulers. My sympathies have naturally been with the Cubans; but I have never thought their grievances were such as to justify them in attempting to right themselves by revolution. The rapid increase in the productions and the wealth of the country, shows they are far from being intolerable or ruinously oppressive. And the time selected, too, was not well chosen. They would have made more friends to their cause if they had waited to see what reforms the new Government at home would grant them. It looked too much like taking advantage of the unsettled state of affairs there to release themselves by force because Spain was too weak then to oppose them, and consequently no overtures of conciliation could be proposed by the new Government, although so favorable to reform at home.

Napoleon's Message to the French Senate.

PARIS, July 16.—The following is the gist of a declaration made by the Duke de Grammont before the Senate to-day:

"Messieurs: The manner in which the country received our declaration of the 6th of July, led us to commence negotiations with Prussia to secure her recognition of the validity of our grievances. We did not treat with Spain, whose independence we have no wish to trample on, nor with the Prince Hohenzollern, whom we consider to be only the shadow of the King; nor have we advanced any other grievance than the candidacy of the Prince for the Spanish throne."

"The Prussian Minister for Foreign Affairs opposed to us a determination not to receive our representative, pretending to ignore the affair. We then addressed ourselves to the King, who maintained that he was a stranger to the affair, and that he could not intervene, except as the head of the family, but he avowed that he had instructed Bismarck. We could not accept this answer, and we demanded that King should influence the Prince Hohenzollern. An interference in the project came from a quarter whence it was least expected. We then demanded that the King should give give a promise for the future. This moderate demand, made in modest terms we declared to be without any reservation. The King declined to say that he would refuse, in the future, to interfere with the candidature, and he refused to authorize us to transmit to you the declaration that he would in future oppose the candidature. He declared that he reserved to himself the right to consider the circumstances. Even after this refusal we did not break off negotiations, but adjourned our explanations to you until this date.

"Yesterday we were apprised that the King of Prussia had notified our Embassador that he would no longer receive him, and to render the rupture more obvious, he gave notice of his action to the Cabinets of Europe. At the same time he announced that Werther might take his leave, and that the armament of Prussia had commenced. On our part, we yesterday called out the reserves, and we have taken such other measures as the interest and honor of the country demanded."

A copy of this declaration was presented to the Corps Legislatif by the Keeper of the Seals, and the Government asked a vote of supplies and the call to arms of all classes owing military service.

ENGLAND'S SKELETON.—The San Francisco Bulletin says

The most pitiful part of the war news is that which describes the new-born anxiety of England to do away with privateering. The Shipping Gazette says if this is conceded, England will not care what becomes of either Holland or Belgium. A chance to absorb the commerce of the belligerents is the greatest desire of Britain; but if France arms privateers, against her enemies, England's power in the war, if she is drawn into it, will be seriously diminished. Her anxiety to have an immediate pledge against privateering is therefore very natural; and in the light of the Alabama claim, is an earnest of the retribution near at hand. Privateering, which was checked in Parliament, and aided in Liverpool, when directed against American commerce, is destined to be the fatal boomerang by which Britain's "wooden walls" will be pierced and her empire of the seas utterly destroyed. It would have been wiser to have learned this in 1861 than in 1870.

The Daily Oregonian.

TUESDAY MORNING JULY 26 1870

An Unfounded Claim

We observe that the Herald in printing a list of the members elect of the Legislature gives the name of J F Mosher as one of the Senators for the district composed of Douglas, Coos and Curry counties. The Senators from that district, Messrs Herman and [illegible], were elected two years ago and hold over. It is claimed however by some of the more unscrupulous sort that the seat of Mr Herman has become vacant by reason of his having been engaged in collecting United States internal revenue in that part of the State. Now the truth is Mr Herman was employed in that very same capacity when elected two years ago, yet the Democrats knowing it and having a majority in the Senate raised no question as to his right to the seat. It was proposed to Mr Barker his Democratic opponent in the election to make a contest but he refused to do it stating that the grounds alleged were too frivolous. But just before the late election Mr Mosher conceived the idea of becoming a candidate getting a few votes and then coming up to the Legislature and claiming Mr Herman's seat. The Democrats of Douglas county, however, declined to make any nomination for the office and a few days before the election Mr Mosher who was a member of the county Democratic Committee, nominated himself. He had some tickets printed with his name on them as a candidate for Senator, and got a few votes in the district. Of course the Republicans presented no candidate, and only a few Democrats voted for Mr Mosher. These are the circumstances under which the Herald claims Mr Mosehr as a Senator for that district. The claim is absurd, and to enforce it would be an outrage. Even if Mr Herman had forfeited his right to a seat, which, however he has not done, a Democratic Senate could not oust him without stultifying itself for its action in permitting him to occupy the seat at the last session. Besides if Mr Herman should be unseated Mr Mosher could not lawfully obtain the place under his present claim. There is no vacancy yet in the district, and there can be none until the Senate shall so declare. Of course no person can be lawfully elected to fill a vacancy in the Legislature until there is a vacancy to fill. Then the Governor must issue his proclamation for an election, as provided by law. So it will be seen that in any event Mr. Mosher has not the shadow of a rightful claim to the seat which the Herald assigns to him. Is not the Democratic majority in the Legislature already large enough (thirteen on joint ballot) to answer all partisan purposes, without resorting to outrageous and unjustifiable measures to increase it.

A California Opinion of the Central Pacific Railway.

Many California journals complain of the manner in which that State is served by the great railway monopoly that controls it. The San Francisco Call is now to be added to the list of journals that speak out plainly and boldly on this subject. That paper says that freights are arranged so as to benefit Chicago trade and not that of the Pacific coast. That paper illustrates in this way

> Wool, for instance, can be shipped by railroad nearly three thousand miles, to New York, or other Eastern markets, for two cents per pound, currency, but if California merchants wish to compete with Chicago, they are compelled to pay a larger sum, even to Salt Lake, or other way stations, in gold. Through freight which comes in competition with that carried by the mail steamers, is put down, but [illegible] the inhabitants of California can be [illegible], the railroad does not hesitate to take the advantage. We wish to be fair with the Railroad Company, but the State is being [illegible] greatly injured, at this time. Of this, we believe there can be but one opinion. The State of California has paid the railroad large sums of money. The city has paid it large sums of money, but where are the benefits? Freights to New York, which may be carried by steamer, are put down, but that is all. If our merchants wish to send wool to market, it can go by steamer, hence, freights are low—two cents per pound, currency—but when they desire to have an article of merchandise stop at a way station, it is made to pay dearly

Under this policy it costs as much to send the products of the Pacific coast by rail to places where they will sell, as they are worth, and sometimes even more. The Call believes that this railroad, as managed, is of very little benefit to California and the Pacific States and Territories. "It transports" says that paper, "a few first-class passengers at high prices, but immigrants cannot come." In another article the Call replying to some observations on railroads by a Washington Territory paper, says

> The richer portion of our population can pay the price demanded for a trip to the Atlantic States. A few rich excursionists can come, but they do not stay. Let Stanford & Co have the Southern Pacific Railroad, and California will be completely hemmed in, but Washingtonians had best not crow to soon, lest they have the same powers guarding the approaches to that Territory. Stanford & Co own this end of the road leading through Oregon already, hence they can place an embargo on travel between the two sections

This, let it be remembered, is the great railway monopoly into whose hands certain people have been so very anxious to deliver Oregon. They would adopt a policy that would crush out every other railway enterprise, make the Central Pacific Company of California, a corporation already worth $200,000,000, supreme in our State and leave our Southern counties without a railroad, and without a hope of obtaining one. We have republished these statements from the California papers because it is fit that the people of Oregon should understand the workings of the great corporation of California in behalf of which certain parties have been laboring so sedulously here.

The Eugene Journal, whose editor saw and read the Pengra letter before it was published, says that the letter, as it appeared in the Herald, was different in several material particulars from the original copy. Says the Journal. "We observe that the Portland folks have made various modifications and changes in the text of the letter by striking out words and phrases without indicating the omissions by the customary use of stars, a thing which but a few weeks ago when a letter from Mr Gaston was published and even the omissions indicated by the customary use of stars, the Herald declared it to be extremely dishonorable and something that they would never do. However they or some of the capitalists who made such a fuss about the Gaston letter, have not only omitted words but have substituted other words. This confirms our supposition that the letter was doctored up by interested parties in Portland to suit their view of things. So it appears that the people interested in the Humboldt branch cannot agree upon a statement of facts regarding it. These gentlemen are certainly well prepared to criticise the action of others in the matter."

The war in Europe checks the agitation of the great labor question that was beginning to make itself powerfully felt especially throughout Germany and Switzerland. A great meeting of the employers of labor was to have [illegible] the difficulties of the present [illegible] the same kind of basis [illegible] modate the difference between capital and labor. The agitation of the labor question there has been much more vehement and general than in this country, but of course it will yield now to the greater question [illegible]

A New York dispatch of July 14th [illegible] the cable reports that the drought in [illegible] ended [illegible] are not fully true. [illegible] weeks prior to July 4th. Since then there have been only a few slight showers which are not sufficient to revive the drooping crops. These advices are confirmed by private despatches and there is no doubt but Europe will require a large amount of breadstuffs from other countries

CALIFORNIA AND NEVADA

Property in Hamilton the principal town of White Pine, has depreciated 60 per cent within a year

A load of freight, composed of whisky and sulphuric acid, was destroyed on the road to White Pine by some of the packages breaking and by mixing causing a fire

The Shoshones about Elko are turning their attention from scalps to poker, and being handsomely cleaned out by their high toned brethren the Piutes who will gamble all the clothes off them

The Commissioners to decide between the California Pacific and Central roads at Sacramento, have awarded $60 000 damages to the latter for damages sustained by the former entering the city upon their grounds etc

The report for the Second street cut in San Francisco shows that the assessments for benefits were $626,773 28 the damages allowed to property, $278 608 43 the cost of the work and expenses of commission, $348 165 85

A T Stewart, of New York, has ordered a quantity of the best make of California blankets, from the Mission and Pacific Woolen Mills, of Marysville. The order will tax the capacity of both mills until [illegible] next, and will amount to about 80 car loads, or 600 tons

The Stockton Independent says that R W Brush of that city, left for New York on the 28th May, to meet four brothers. The five who thus met by arrangement at Hopkinton, St Lawrence county (N Y) had not been together for seventy one years. The youngest of the brothers is seventy seven the oldest, eighty nine. It is doubted whether a like remarkable instance of longevity can be cited

A San Francisco paper says "It is a somewhat noticeable fact in connection with the incoming of the new crop that thus far nearly or quite every bushel of wheat has been loaded at Vallejo, and that of the five or six ships now under charter to load with wheat for England, all are to go to Vallejo. The present appearances are that not more than one quarter of the next year's grain crop will find its way to this city. Charges on shipping in this harbor are driving from our wharves one of the heaviest and most important classes of business on the coast. Somebody has blundered."

The San Francisco Bulletin has the following remarks on a "practical proposition." One of the speakers at the Anti Chinese meeting last night suggested that, if the laboring men of the State would save the eight millions of dollars which he asserted they yearly spend for liquor and cigars, they could purchase with it all the legislation they need from both Congress and the State Legislature. The proposition is a very practical one. It is dreadful to think that so much legislative influence is swallowed and smoked away. We hope the work of economy will begin at once. Even if the laboring men should fail to buy up Congress and the State Legislature, they will at least have saved up something handsome for a rainy day. Eight millions! Why, that is fifty per cent of the amount deposited in all our saving banks. Here is an argument for Gough when he arrives.

THE TERRITORIES

The Corinne Reporter discovered a party of Indians playing draw poker under the trees, the other day in which squaws were the "antes."

The Boise Chronicle (Democratic) pays a high compliment to Gov Ballard, and says he leaves the Territory with the regret of all good citizens

The flouring mills of Walla Walla valley are standing idle. Very little of last year's wheat remains on hand and the new wheat has scarcely begun to come in

Following are prices of lumber at Walla Walla. Clear, per M, $40; common, 27 50, fencing $27 when obtained at the mills a reduction of $10 per M is made from these figures.

The Arizona Miner complains bitterly of the smallness of the military force in the Territory. The few companies of troops in that section have been so thinned out by death, desertion and discharge that there are barely soldiers enough left for guard and escort duty

Louiseville, Montana, is getting to be quite a town. It has twelve stores for general merchandise, and three devoted to specialities three butchers who sell 1 500 to 1,800 pounds of beef daily, four blacksmith shops, fourteen saloons with gambling houses, places of ill fame etc, to correspond

The Walla Walla Statesman of Saturday states that the pack trains of Messrs Shade & Hill and John Gaston, got in on Tuesday from Cedar Creek. Their reports in no wise differ from those previously received. The claims that are opened pay well, and from five hundred to a thousand men will find profitable employment in the camp

The shaft of the Poorman mine at Owyhee is 500 feet deep and almost exactly perpendicular, and there are six levels. The second is the tunnel which runs south from the shaft a distance of 1,300 feet to the side of the mountain. Five hundred feet from the shaft on this tunnel is where the rich deposit was found. Sixteen men are employed in the mine but soon a larger force will be put at work

At the Fulton Foundry San Francisco, machinery has been ordered for a steamer by the Merchants' and Farmers' Steam Navigation Company of Roseburg. This boat will ply on the Umpqua river. There are two engines 14x48 and boilers 56 inches by 16 feet

From the Mountaineer of Saturday. Dr Wm McKay started from here to day accompanied by his family for Fort Klamath with six wagons loaded with a grist mill, agricultural implements and Indian goods, etc. He takes the old Stein road to Willow Creek, where Captain John Smith now lives and then turns and crosses Crooked river taking the route traveled some two years ago by the late Mr Huntington Superintendent of Indian Affairs for Oregon

Following are Eastern Oregon items. Grain and all crops of early planting look well but all late crops in that section are injured by the extreme heat and drought. The grasshoppers are injuring the crops in portions of Powder river valley. Numbers of Indians have left their reserve and are prowling around the outskirts of the settlements, skulking among the rocks and only waiting a favorable opportunity to commence their hellish work. The settlers there would like to have the military authorities take charge of the red skins, and either keep them on their reserve or else send them to their happy hunting grounds, where they will never trouble whites again

LATE CABLE NEWS

[illegible]

We make the following additional intelligence from our exchanges

The chiefs of the different parties in Hungary met at Pesth and adopted a resolution declaring that every victory of France would be a victory for Hungary

A [illegible] paper says the news from Denmark and the Duchies is excellent. The hatred against Prussia is so great that if the governments be [illegible] take part in the present conflict the people will rise against them. In Hanover there is great agitation and the Prussian Governor-General has asked for reinforcements. The Prussian Government has given stringent orders not to permit the circulation of the French [illegible] to the German population but it will be sure to reach all points of Germany where it can do good. [illegible] numbers of French circulars are being distributed throughout the German States. Private subscriptions for the army will be raised all over France, and money and other gifts are pouring in. The popular enthusiasm is overwhelming

On the 19th inst the French Senate, after the close of the session proceeded to St Cloud where they were received by the Emperor and Empress. Rouher, President said the Senate thanked the Emperor for the permission of expressing to the throne its patriotic sentiments for the monarchy. The communication improves. The prestige and security of France has been more seriously [illegible] by Prussia. On our representation, Prince Leopold renounced the throne of Spain. Spain also returned our friendship and has renounced a candidature so wounding to us. Without doubt immediate danger was thus avoided but our legitimate complaint remains. Was it not evident that a foreign Power to the prejudice of our honor and interest wished to disturb the balance of power in Europe? Had we not the right to demand of that Power guarantees against the possible recurrence of such an attempt as this which is refused and the dignity of France insulted? Your Majesty draws the sword and the country is with you eager for and proud of the occasion. You have waited long but during this time you have raised to perfection the military organization of France by your care. France is prepared. Her enthusiasm proves, like your Majesty, that she will not tolerate wrong. Let the Empress again become the depository of Imperial power. The great bodies of the State surround Her Majesty with their absolute devotion. The nation has faith in her wisdom and energy. Let your Majesty resume with noble confidence the command of the legions you led at Magenta and Solferino. If peril has come the hour of victory is near and soon a grateful country will decree to her children the honor of triumph. Soon Germany will be free from a domination which has oppressed her, and peace will be restored to Europe through the glory of our arms. Your Majesty, who so recently received a proof of the national good will, may then once more devote yourself to reforms, the realization of which is only retarded. Time only is needed to conquer." The Emperor warmly thanked the President and members of the Senate

PERSONAL NOTES

John P Hale is so much changed in his personal appearance that many of his old friends in New Hampshire do not recognize him

George Ashmun, of Massachusetts, ex member of Congress, and Chairman of the Convention that nominated Lincoln for President, died on Saturday last.

A monument to Captain Peter Slater who was one of the party who threw overboard the tea in Boston harbor on the night of December 15th, 1773 has been completed and was set in place in Hope Cemetery, in Worcester, Mass

The New York Evening Post says that "not the least deplorable circumstance connected with the death of Dickens is the painfully large number of essays now preparing with the design of thrusting them upon a patient and unoffending public during the next lecture season."

The Grand Army of the Republic at a recent meeting at Vallejo (Cal) resolved that a monument should be erected to the memory of the gallant Baker, whose remains are interred at Lone Mountain. The committee having the matter in charge will doubtless call upon people for assistance, and the grateful feelings of the patriotic who remember Baker and his deeds will thus find substantial expression

The Washington Star says that "Shoo Fly" has got into the Senate. Recently, Mr Hamlin, in the course of his speech on the income tax question paused to interrogate Mr Morrill in regard to what he construed a vigorous expression of dissent by that gentleman to his proposition that it was necessary to replace the income by a tax on sugar. Mr. Morrill intimated that it was a mistake he had not dissented. "But," said Mr Hamlin "you shook your head." Whereupon Mr Morrill explained that he had shaken his head to get a fly off, and the matter ended with a ripple of laughter among the grave and reverend seignors

CURRENT NOTES

A pleasing little discussion occurred recently in the Chicago Common Council, during which the blood of Alderman Cox boiled up to such an extent that it caused that gentleman's hand to propel a bottle of ink at Alderman Dixon, whose clothes were blackened thereby to a considerable extent as was also the reputation of Alderman Cox

The bill to provide a new apportionment of Congressional representation and to fix one day for Congressional elections throughout the Union failed in Committee of Conference between the two Houses mainly we believe, on a question of numbers. The bill having failed every State is left to elect its Congressmen under the old apportionment and at the usual time. California will therefore not choose Congressmen until 1871 when she will also have to elect a Governor and other State officers

The Philadelphia correspondent of the Iron Age writes June 30th. Experiments are now making in the production of iron in the blast furnace which, if successful on a large scale as in a small way will make a mighty difference in the production of anthracite pig iron. The improvement consists in the addition to the ores in the furnace of the substances which it is claimed cause the superiority of charcoal iron over anthracite. It is said that anthracite pig iron equal in every respect to the best Swedes iron can be produced at no greater cost than for the present article

At New York on the 17th inst., in an interview with the members of the firms of A T Stewart and Claflin & Co regarding the effects of the European war on imported goods, the representatives of the former firm stated that it was impossible to tell the effect, that there had been no precedent to judge by, and that it was a mere chance. It is understood, however in some quarters that Stewart desires to retain his French and German goods, anticipating a heavy rise. Claflin states that German goods will undoubtedly be greatly retained but that trade generally will not be much affected

THE BIG HORN EXPEDITION.—The Big Horn country has never been fully explored. For many years past there have been a great many rumors afloat concerning the fabulous richness of that unknown region. But the country was unsettled and the Indians were hostile. Several adventurous spirits finally conceived the idea of exploring this region in search of hidden treasures. A party was organized at Cheyenne fully armed and equipped. When the expedition was about ready to start orders were received from Washington to prevent the movement, but when it became understood that there was no intention of warring upon the various Indian tribes the prohibitory order was rescinded. The party left Cheyenne and was shortly far beyond the confines of civilization. There is a certain portion of that country where it would be dangerous for even a very large party to proceed in safety. On this account a sensation rumor was circulated that the expedition had been attacked by Indians. We are glad to learn however that the report is probably untrue. A late issue of the Omaha Herald contains the following quasi denial of the rumor alluded to: "In our opinion no credit should be given to the report that disaster has befel on the Big Horn expedition. It is not reasonable to suppose that 500 men well armed and equipped have been attacked by Indians. Such danger could only occur if they should go into the Big Horn region, which as we know they had no intention of doing. Their danger will lie in their having to separate when, from being soldiers, they become miners."

[illegible] Three or four weeks ago a [illegible] man entered the Fifteenth Amendment [illegible] At that time he [illegible] through a deep [illegible] countrymen [illegible] Yesterday morning he [illegible] was captured [illegible] before the Recorder [illegible] He pleaded on the charge of [illegible] larceny [illegible] which he paid [illegible] and went [illegible]

Yesterday we learned [illegible] who was robbed of his berries [illegible] of the two men who [illegible] The description [illegible] said to suit the [illegible] escaped from the county jail some weeks since. It is not probable that either of the men was Shultz as was first reported.

We [illegible] who have seen Shultz the robber [illegible] and who have had narrow escapes [illegible] dent they have [illegible] hours of the night when [illegible] robbers [illegible] met him at dark corners of the streets or having taken too much mince pie on their stomachs have dreamed of Shultz Klonas

MISS ANNIE PIXLEY'S BENEFIT.—This evening at Oro Fino Theater Miss Annie Pixley will take a benefit on which occasion the legitimate company and several volunteer artists will appear. The plays selected are the comic drama in one act entitled "The Artful Dodge" and the comic burletta of "A Day After the Fair." Between the pieces there will be a grand musical melange by the beneficiary, her sisters Minnie and Lucy, Tony Ward and Wm Ellerton. In the Artful Dodge Miss Annie will appear as Susan Smudge, a literary young female and will also sing a solo and with Mr Ellerton will perform a duett and dance—Irish Jig "Addzooks." In the Day After the Fair she is cast for the dual character of Bridget a washerwoman (with Irish Jig and Mrs. Marmaduke Maypole a Manageress. Miss Minnie will play in the latter piece, the character of Jerry disguised as Drunken Cobbler, Female Ballad Singer Drummer Boy Mancrelle Dumphgo and Maniac. Messrs Vinson, Melville Ellerton Clinton and others are in the cast. Miss Annie is deservedly popular and we predict for her a rousing benefit

OREGON CENTRAL RAILROAD SURVEY.—The Commercial says The Surveyors under Geo. H. [illegible] Esq crossed the Willamette above Milwaukie, last week and are now out running lines [illegible] determine the feasibility of constructing a road to Hillsboro in that direction. We think they have at last struck the best and cheapest pass, and that to connect it with the main [illegible] line of the O & C R R a bridge will be thrown across the Willamette above Milwaukie near Rock Island. We have been informed by one who knows, that the Gaston route has been condemned in consequence of the large amount of trestling and bridging necessary. This last piece of information is probably only somebody's rumor as we are informed that no route has been abandoned nor decided upon, and will not be till all have been fully surveyed and reported upon

CIRCUIT COURT.—[illegible] JUDGE.—Proceedings of Monday, July 25.

Frederick Norman vs Pierre Manstet, John C. Work and [illegible] Table cause transferred to the U S District Court

Term of Circuit Court of Multnomah county ordered to be held Aug 15th, 1870, and a jury ordered to be summoned

Ben Holladay and C Temple Emmett vs G Elliott, Gardner Elliott, T R Brooks and J B Rogers cause referred to J C Moreland to report on issues of both fact and law

A considerable part of the day was consumed in hearing the argument of counsel upon a motion to set aside the report of the referee in the case of D P Stimson vs Estes & Brewer.

The court adjourned till ten A M Tuesday

WASHINGTON COUNTY AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—We have received a copy of the Premium List of the Agricultural Fair to be held at Hillsboro, Washington county October 4th to the 7th inclusive. From the "Order of Exercises" it would seem that Pure Agricultural Horse Trots are to be indulged in pretty extensively along with other exhibitions and exercises. There is a eight first premium for speed amounting to $[illegible] and the same number of second premiums amounting to $110. There is also a $10 premium for the most graceful and accomplished lady rider. Other premiums range from $1 to $10, and are about the usual articles advertised by county fairs. A general invitation is extended to the citizens of Oregon and adjoining States and Territories to compete for premiums

EUROPEAN AFFAIRS.—Rev E. N. Sawtelle, D D., will deliver a lecture on the above subject at the Presbyterian church, this evening, at 8 o'clock precisely. Dr Sawtelle was a resident of France sixteen years visited other countries of Europe, and thus became familiar with the regions embraced in the theatre of the war becoming up in gigantic proportions. The doctor having been detained a day in the city has consented to deliver the lecture for the benefit of the Ladies' Relief Society. A collection will be taken up at the close

U S DISTRICT COURT.—DEADY, JUDGE.—Proceeding of Monday July 25th

In the matter of J [illegible] in bankruptcy. Hearing on motion for adjudication continued to Monday next

In the matter of A H Kallenberg in bankruptcy. A question arose before the Register as to the right of Ladd & Tilton to prove their debt and vote for assignee. Opinion of Register certified up, heard and taken under advisement

The court adjourned till Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock

A NEW FIRM.—Leveridge Wadhams & Co have bought out the wholesale grocery establishment of R G Sneath in this city. The business will be carried on with a house in both San Francisco and Portland. Messrs W K Leveridge and A P Everett at San Francisco and Messrs Wm Wadhams and Wm Morton at Portland. They will do a wholesale grocery forwarding and commission business. These gentlemen are well known [illegible] as men of strict integrity and excellent business capacity

RETIRED IN TIME.—A back door on Seventh street was persistently tried late Sunday night by some person who had no right there and who cleared out just in time to save himself the pain of carrying away in his carcass a half ounce bullet. This sort of thing is getting so common that most people are fixing themselves to receive in a proper manner and if we are not mistaken there will be some funerals before long in which burglar coffins will be the extra figures

THANKS.—At a special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Congregation Ahabai Shalome held on Sunday July [illegible] it was resolved to tender a vote of thanks to the following ladies and gentlemen for volunteering their services at the late concert given for the benefit of the [illegible] congregation [illegible] connected with the Mrs Mosko [illegible] Minnie Pixley [illegible] Simon Harris Paul Richter and [illegible] By order of the President

TUESDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1870.

CITY.

DAILY RECORD OF ROBBERIES, BURGLARIES, ETC.—The residence of Mr. Thos. Stephens on the macadamized road, was entered Sunday night by a burglar who carried off some clothing and other minor valuables. Mr. Stephens was engaged yesterday, endeavoring to get a party to join him in hunting for the burglars, but with what success we cannot say. There is a good deal of alarm among the dwellers on the outside of the city and this freshest burglary is attributed to Shultz, who is now as much the terror of the road as were the Claude Duvals or the Dick Turpins of [illegible].

Some four weeks ago a Chinaman entered the Fifteenth Amendment Saloon and stole several boxes of cigars. At that time he got away [illegible] resistance to some of his [illegible] who attempted to take him and delivered him to the police. Yesterday morning he was arrested and arraigned before the Recorder on the charge of petit larceny. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs, which he paid [illegible] way—probably to steal again.

[illegible] we heard the boy who was robbed of [illegible] in the tater patch northwest of the [illegible] other day, describe the two men who [illegible]. The description is said to suit the [illegible] Shultz and Galt who escaped from the [illegible] some weeks since. It is not probable [illegible] of the men was Shultz, as was first [illegible].

[illegible] of several persons who have seen [illegible] the robber and desperado, and who have [illegible] escapes! Others are equally confident [illegible] have heard him at their doors or windows [illegible] watching hours of the night when [illegible] or have met him at dark corners [illegible] having too much mince pie on [illegible] have dreamed of Shultz. Klonas.

[illegible] PIXLEY'S BENEFIT.—This evening [illegible], Miss Annie Pixley will take [illegible] which occasion the legitimate comedy [illegible] several volunteer artists will appear. [illegible] are the comic drama, in one [illegible] "The Artful Dodge," and the comic [illegible] Day after the Fair." Between [illegible] there will be a grand musical melange, [illegible], her sisters Minnie and Lucy, [illegible] and Wm. Ellerton. In the Artful [illegible] Annie will appear as Susan Smudge, [illegible] female, and will also sing a solo. [illegible] Ellerton will perform a duett and [illegible] Jig, "Addcocks." In the "Day [illegible]" she is cast for the dual character [illegible] washerwoman, (with Irish Jig) and [illegible] Maypole, a Manageress. Miss [illegible] play in the latter piece, the character [illegible] as Drunken Cobbler, Female [illegible] mer Boy, Mamzelle Dumpling [illegible] Messrs. Vinson, Melville, Ellerton and others are in the cast. Miss [illegible] ally popular, and we predict for [illegible] benefit.

[illegible] RAILROAD SURVEY.—The [illegible] "The Surveyors under Geo. H. [illegible] entered the Willamette above Mil[illegible] and are now out running lines [illegible] the feasibility of constructing [illegible] in that direction. We think [illegible] struck the best and cheapest [illegible] connect it with the main trunk [illegible] R. R. a bridge will be thrown [illegible] above Milwaukie, near [illegible] We have been informed by one [illegible] the Gaston route has been con[illegible] sequence of the large amount of bridging necessary." This last [illegible] is probably only somebody's [illegible] informed that no route has been decided upon; and will not be till fully surveyed and reported upon.

BRIEF MENTION.—The steamer Idaho brought up fourteen sacks of mail matter and 575 tons freight.

The next steamer for this port from San Francisco, will be the sidewheel steamer California.

The first water melons of the season were in the market yesterday. They were brought from California per the last steamer.

The old Congregational church building is being removed to make room for a spacious new church to be erected this season.

The proprietors of the East Portland and Silverton plank road have abandoned the collection of tolls. Another road recently opened takes the travel.

There are several persons in the city who talk of going to Europe to enlist in the war, two of whom, we have herd, propose to join the Prussian army.

The work of discharging the cargo of the ship Alpha, which has been for several days suspended, will be resumed to day.

It is stated that the steamer Oriflamme will be put on the route from San Francisco to Portland in place of the Moses Taylor.

The Chinaman charged before the Recorder with an assault with a knife upon a boy, was yesterday discharged, the evidence showing that he only used the knife intending to cut the string upon which the boy's fish were strung.

ASTORIA ITEMS.—Mr. John McEwan, of Astoria, is over 96 years ago—"sea air" gives long life.

On Saturday night there were five steamers at Flavel's wharf.

Col. David Taggart, Paymaster, paid off the troops at Fort Stevens and Cape Disappointment on Saturday last.

The tug Astoria towed the bark Falkinburg to sea on Saturday morning. Sea going men consider the Astoria a success, and fully able to do her duty.

The State Pilot Commissioners, Col. J. Taylor, T. J. Dryer and Capt. Kippin, met in this place on Saturday last in an official capacity. They adjourned to meet again this week when they will inspect the pilot boat and transact such other business as may come before the Board.

There is a lady in this county who weighs over 300 pounds, and two others who exceed 220. Another testimonial in favor of "sea air."

On Monday the Fannie Troup brought sixty passengers up the river.

The Astoria trade is rapidly increasing and will soon equal that of the upper Columbia.

The Key of the Continent.

In a discourse at Council University recently, Horatio Seymour pointed out the remarkable topographical relations of New York to the country. The valleys of the Hudson, the Chainplain and the Mohawk he styled "the Key of the Continent." The Mohawk, at right angles to the others, leads to a region near Ithica, (where the orator was speaking) which he described as follows:

By starting in our Mohawk, the traveler may make his way through twenty-one States, and never leave a valley. We stand moreover tonight at the foot of one of the most marvellous ranges of hills in the world. When we first meet it in the east we find that its waters flow into the Delaware, which passes Philadelphia. A little further to the west, and they run into the Susquehanna, which empties into Chesapeake Bay and leads to Baltimore and the Capitol. A little further and they pour into the Alleghany, past Pittsburg and Cincinnati and New Orleans. A little further, at the western extremity of the hills, they flow into Lake Erie, and on past the Canadian cities into the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Here, on the north, they run into the Mohawk, and at last sink at New York into the Atlantic. Thus from our State, from this little range of hills only two hundred miles long and scarcely ever rising to a height over 2,000 feet, water flows to nearly every one of our great commercial centers. Here was the secret of the confederacy of the Five Nations, afterwards the Six Nations. A single tribe, having been led by the peculiar conformation of the land to perceive the advantages of a confederated government, was able, in consequence of this peculiar geographical conformation, to conquer half a continent. The savages employed that strategy which made Napoleon famous, and could throw their troops down the Delaware, Susquehanna, Alleghany, and through the valley of Lake Erie. They carried their arms further than was ever done by any other nation unaided by art. At the epoch of our early settlement they were really so powerful as to hold the balance of power. Ultimate victory was sure to which ever party should receive their support. They gave it finally to the English, and the English triumphed, while the French failed. That it was so given is owing to the policy towards the Indians introduced by the Dutch. Even in commerce, our railroads and canals follow the war-paths of the Iriquois confederacy.

Sorcery in Alaska.

Our aboriginal brethren in Alaska are addicted to sorcery to a certain extent. Dall, in his book on Alaska, gives the following example of the manner in which shamanism (as it is called) is practiced:

On the day appointed for the exhibition of the shaman's power, his relations who act the part of a chorus of singers, are obliged to fast. Nay, more than that; they are obliged to use a feather as an emetic, and free themselves from such gross material substances as food. The performance commences at sunset and lasts until sunrise. All who wish to participate assemble in the lodge or hut of the shaman, where they join in a song, to which time is beaten on a drum. Dressed in his paraphernalia, with a mask over his face, the shaman rushes round and round the fire, which is burning in the centre of the lodge; he keeps his eyes directed towards the opening of the roof, and keeps time to the drum with violent motions of his limbs and body. These movements gradually become more convulsive; his eyes roll until only the whites are visible. Suddenly he stops, looks intently at the drum, and utters loud cries. The singing ceases, and all eyes are directed towards him, all ears strained to catch the utterances which are supposed to be inspired. These ceremonies comprise the whole art of shamanish among the Thlinkets. The spirits of the different classes appear to the shaman in different forms. By changing the mask he places himself en rapport with the spirit to which each mask is dedicated. It is believed that this spirit inspires for the moment all the utterances of the shaman, who is for the moment unconscious. After the ceremonies are over, first tobacco and then food are distributed to those present, and all is concluded.

TWO PICTURES OF A NEW YORK BALL.—The demi monde had a sylvan soiree dan sante yesterday afternoon and evening at Elm Park. Over 10,000 men and women were present—among them several prominent politicians, a few leading lawyers and one or two judges.—World

The demi monde of New York had a ball yesterday afternoon at Elm Park. All the thieves, gamblers, prostitutes and low politicians of the city were present. The crowd numbered 10,000, and the scenes were the most disgusting and disgraceful ever witnessed in this vicinity.—Standard

LIQUID WITNESS.—The mouth is like a house to let. However pretty it may be externally, it is impossible to judge of its merits until you have seen the inside. If behind the ruby doors there are plenty of pearl-white fixtures, you will exclaim at once, "How beautiful!" To impart the utmost possible brilliancy, there is nothing like fragrant SOZODONT.

Comments of Leading Journals.

THE TRIBUNE AND WORLD ON THE EUROPEAN WAR.

New York dispatches of the 15th to Chicago papers give the editorial comments of the leading New York journals on the war in Europe. We make some extracts:

WHAT THE TRIBUNE SAYS.

A Tribune editorial says that the declaration of war threatened on account of the nomination of Prince Leopold for the throne of Spain has at last been made on the pretext of incivility to the French Ambassador at Berlin. The difficulty on the part of France has been from the first a fraudulent quarrel, and it is fitting it should culminate in a diplomatic falsehood so gross that the world can hardly feel seriously angry at it. A war between France and Prussia has been inevitable since the re-organization of Germany. The Bonaparte dynasty can maintain itself only by tickling the French passion for glory, and all Europe has felt that Napoleon must soon make some desperate movement to recover the prestige he lost during the seven weeks' war of 1866, and the disastrous experiment of the Latin empire in Mexico. The war, we suppose, will be a severe one, though it is not likely to be long, and a few weeks more will probably decide whether Prussia shall retain her precedence or the first place hereafter belong to France. So far as we can judge from statistical returns, the two powers are almost evenly matched; but the victory will remain with that one whose resources can be the more readily mobilized, and whose organization will work the more perfectly in practice. Prussia is no match for France on the sea, and it is doubtful if any serious engagement takes place on water. The brunt of the campaign will be borne on the Rhine, in the midst of that network of fortresses upon which the military engineers of so many generations have expended their ingenuity. There Prussia has the advantage in previous possession and the most minute acquaintance with the country. For years her officers have traversed the country back and forth, and her soldiers have travelled over all the roads, and, we might almost say, have drilled in all the fields. Ever since the first threatening of war she has been concentrating her armies in these strong places; and when the clash of battle comes she will have in her aid almost every aid which military science has devised for a defending force. She will have a patriotic and enthusiastic people supporting her and a just cause to give her confidence. From present appearances it would seem that the odds are in her favor; but how well she has preserved the admirable organization which gave her such a superiority in 1866 is a question which can only be answered by the test of war.

WHAT THE WORLD SAYS.

The World's editorials say that both the great Powers are now committed to this wager of battle, destined, we think, to be the greatest in many particulars which even our times—so terribly splendid with shocks of human passion and national power—have known, have many, and grave, and various claims upon the sympathies of people of America. The war comes at last in a form and under conditions which seem to us to justify the hope that its scope may be limited, so far as the scope of such a war can be by a wise, diplomatic regard to the permanent, pacific interests of other nations, rather than by the evanescent and provocative plottings of dynasties, and the growth of Prussia under King William has gradually become of late years the most autocratic of Europe, and as such, it has repeatedly dealt with grave public questions in a spirit more nearly akin to that by which the unfortunate Czar Nicholas brought down upon himself and his empire the calamities of crime and war, than to the just and deliberate tempers in which it is felt by the free nations of our time that public questions should be debated and decided.

The World refers to Prussia's persistent refusal to respect the obligation of the treaty of Prague, as regards Holstein, and says that if the general condemnation weighs heavily at once against Prussia, it will not fail also to be felt eventually as a restraint upon France. By the forms in which she has proclaimed war, France has put herself under bonds, as one may say, to the public opinion of Europe, to make her war a war not against Germany, but against Prussia—a war of reparation and correction for specific insults and wrongs, not a war of adventure and ambition, nor yet of national vengeance and aggrandisement; to the letter and to the spirit of these obligations we may hope she will be rigidly held, not by the sentiment of the civilized world alone, but by the enlightened opinion of all that is best, noblest and worthiest among her own people.

OUR CITIZENS certainly deserve credit, for the energy they display to make the Oregon Immigration and Labor Exchange a success and benefit to the State, as well as the immigrant coming to our State. Every citizen should give all the aid in their power to help the large number of strangers coming to our State, and not forget to inform them that Kohn & Fishel, No. 91 Front street, have the largest stock of clothing in Oregon; other goods are of superior quality and sold at extreme low prices.

The Living Machine.

Injure the main spring of a watch, and every portion of the works is disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to a chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs and controls, to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried further for as the weakness or other imperfections of the main spring is indicated on the face of the time piece, so also is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or faded, the eyes are deficient in luster and intelligence, and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tell as plainly as written words could do, that the great nourishing organ whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts, is not performing its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopœia have been exhausted, without, at best, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful, stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act with singular distinctness, regulating and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 685 AND 687 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excited the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

320 ACRES OF LAND, IN JACKSON COUNty, for sale or exchange for city property. It is in the suburbs of Gasburg. Gasburg, like the beaver, is all "terminus." The branch of the Central Pacific Railroad will intersect the Oregon and California road at Gasburg. The Oregon Central will run through it as does the stage road now, and many a railroad as yet unthought of, will end its "terminus" in Gasburg! The warm and dry winters, the mild Italian summers, the gushing spring water at short intervals, the lofty peaks of the Cascades on the east, the Coast Range on the west, the broad and fertile valleys on the north and south, and last, but not least, the inexhaustible forests on every hand, make it naturally one of the finest "terminuses" that ever was attached unto the "tother eend" of any railroad. Also a one-third interest in a water ditch and forty acres of mining lands, which have been worked for nine years and never failed to pay a dividend.

ROPE OF ALL SIZES, for sale by
H. W. CORBETT & CO.

The Seat of Empire

W[illegible] [illegible] just published in Boston on behalf of the North[illegible] Sacramento [illegible] reviews the book at length. The [illegible] that [illegible] present his views of the vast region of country known as the Northwest, lying between Lake Superior and the headwaters of the Mississippi on the east and Puget Sound on the west. It includes the Red river, the Assiniboine, the Saskatchewan, the Yellowstone, Clark's Fork of the Columbia and the Puget Sound regions, besides the Minnesota country east and west of the Mississippi. Minnesota he describes as a land of beautiful rivers and innumerable lakes, nearly all open prairie to the westward. The divide between the waters of the Red and Mississippi rivers is hardly perceptible, and there is no perceptible change in the character of the soil for hundreds of miles along the route of the great railway now being built. Its grades for 600 miles westward from Duluth are almost on a level. Approaching the Yellowstone valley the rise begins, but it is easy and gradual, and the highest point touched at either Deer Lodge or Clark's Pass is 2,800 feet less than the highest points on the Central and Union Pacific. This gives less snow in the winter and the easy grades will admit of much cheaper transportation. The highest point touched between Lake Superior and the Yellowstone is 2,300 feet above sea level. The summit of the Rocky Mountains at Clark's Pass is but a little over 5,000 feet, and this is the highest point noted on the whole line. We are informed that the entire country for hundreds of miles on either side of this road is well watered, the best of soil and good climate, and only wanting in timber. Here is a comparison between the two routes quoted from Milnor Roberts, a civil engineer who is familiar with both:

> There is evidence enough to show that the line of road on the general route herein described will in ordinary winters, be much less incumbered with snow where it crosses the mountains than are the passes at more southerly points which are much more elevated above the sea. The difference of five or six degrees of latitude is more than compensated by the reduced elevation above the sea-level, and the climatic effect of the warm ocean currents from the equator, already referred to, ameliorating the seasons from the Pacific to the Rocky Mountains. An examination of the profile of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific lines from Omaha, on the Missouri river, and Sacramento, California, a distance of 1,775 miles shows that there are four main summits—Sherman Summit, on the Black Hills about 550 miles from Omaha, 8,235 feet above the sea; one on the Rocky Mountains, at Aspen Summit, about 935 miles from Omaha, 7,463 feet; one at Humboldt Mountain, about 1,245 miles from Omaha, 6,076 feet; and another on the Sierra Nevada, only 105 miles from the western terminus at Sacramento, 7,062 feet; whilst from a point west of Cheyenne, 520 miles from Omaha, to Wasatch, 970 miles from Omaha, a continuous length of 450 miles, every portion of the graded road is more than 6,000 feet above the sea, being about 1,000 feet on this long distance higher than the highest summit grade on the Northern Pacific Railroad route; whilst for the corresponding distance on the Northern Pacific line the average elevation is under 3,000 feet, or 3,000 feet lower than the Sherman Summit on the Pacific line.
> On the Union Pacific road the profile also shows that for 900 continuous miles, from Sidney westward, the road has an average height of over 5,000 feet, and the lowest spot on that distance is more than 4,000 feet above the sea, whereas, on the northern route only about sixty miles at most are as high as 4,000 feet, and the corresponding distance of 900 miles, extending from the mouth of the Yellowstone to the valley of Clark's river, is, on an average, about 3,000 feet lower than the Union Pacific line. Allowing that 1,000 feet elevation causes a decrease of temperature of three degrees, there is, therefore, a substantial reason for this circumstance, now well authenticated, that the snows on the Northern route are much less troublesome than they are on the Union Pacific and Central Pacific routes.

The writer says there are tens of millions of acres of vacant lands in Minnesota and Dakota not yet absorbed by railways. His notes of the Saskatchewan country are derived from information and not observation. His [illegible] makes it out a stream superior in volume to the Ohio, and watering a country of vast extent and unsurpassed fertility, with a climate just a little colder than that of Minnesota. He states that the distance from Japan to New York by way of this Northern Pacific Railway is 600 miles shorter than by way of San Francisco, Salt Lake and Omaha, and on this fact and the superior character of the country, he bases the prophecy that the trade of Asia must find its way through Puget Sound, Clark's Pass and Lake Superior. The accompanying map gives the assumed route of the Northern Pacific road with the lakes and rivers of all the Northwest up to latitude 55 degrees, including all the space east and west between the two oceans with all the railway connections. Here is the writer's description of the Pacific "Gulf Stream," and his views of its effects upon the climate of the interior of this continent northward of the degree where the Rocky Mountains stoop to an average altitude as low as 4,000 feet:

> In the Autumn of 1863 I crossed the Pacific from Japan to San Francisco, in the Pacific Mail steamer Colorado. Soon after leaving the bay of Yokohama we entered the Kuro-Siwo, or the Black Ocean-river of the Asiatic coast. This ocean current bears a remarkable resemblance to the Gulf Stream of the Atlantic. Along the eastern shore of Japan the water, like that along Virginia and the Carolinas, is very cold, but we suddenly pass into the heated river, which, starting from the vicinity of the Philippine Islands, leaves the eastern shore of Formosa, and rushes past the bay of Yedo at the rate of eighty miles per day. This heated river strikes across the Northern Pacific to British Columbia and Puget Sound, giving a genial climate nearly up to the Arctic Circle. No icebergs are ever encountered in the North Pacific. The influence of the Kuro Siwo upon the northwest is very much like that which the Gulf Stream has upon England and Norway. It gives to Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and Vancouver Island winters so mild that the people cannot lay in a supply of ice for the summer. Roses bloom in the gardens throughout the year. So the water heated beneath the tropics, off the [illegible] coast of Siam and north of Borneo, flows along the shore of Japan up to the Aleutian Isles imparting its heat to the air, which under the universal law, ascends when heated and sweeps over the Rocky Mountains, and tempers the climate east of them almost to Hudson Bay.
> So wonderfully arranged is this mighty machinery of nature, that millions of the human race in coming years will rear their habitations and enjoy the blessings of civilization in regions that otherwise would be pathless solitudes.
>
> In the meteorological register kept at Carlton House, in latitude 52° 51' on the eastern limit of the Saskatchewan Plain, eleven hundred feet above the sea, we find this entry: "At this place westerly winds bring mild weather and the easterly ones are attended with fog and snow."
>
> By the following tabular statement we see at a glance the snow-fall at various places in the United States. We give average depths for the winter as set down in Blodget's Climatology:

Oxford county, Maine	90 inches.
Dover, New Hampshire	68 inches.
Montreal, Canada	65 inches
Burlington, Vermont	85 inches
Wor[illegible], Massachusetts	85 inches.
Cincinnati, Ohio	19 inches.
Burlington, Iowa	16 inches
Beloit, Wisconsin	25 inches
Fort Abercrombie, Dakota	12 inches

> From this testimony I am impelled to believe that the immense area west of Lake Superior and north of the sixteenth parallel as capable of being settled as those portions of Russia, Sweden and Norway south of that degree, now swarming with people. That parallel passes through St Petersburg, Stockholm, Christiana and the Shetland Isles on the eastern hemisphere, Fort Liard and Central Alaska on the western.

ZERAH COLBURN.—The statement has been published everywhere that this distinguished engineer died by his own hand. Thus the Technologist is inclined to disbelieve. It mentions the fact the pistol was found in the left hand of the deceased, who was not left handed, and that a large sum of money, nearly $7,000, which Mr Colburn was known to have had about him, has disappeared. The matter should be investigated and if a foul murder has been committed, or if strong evidences of such exist, the public should know of it.

A mistaken tourist was found weeping over the ice-house at Mount Vernon thinking he was dropping tears at the tomb of Washington.

Character and Sayings of Americans

[illegible] some one with [illegible] make a very readable article from the first number [illegible] Am[illegible] Here are a few [illegible] specimens of what might be done with time and opportunity.

Samuel Adams, known for many [illegible] has his name associated with the [illegible] first [illegible] England "Nation of shopkeepers."

It was John Wesley and [illegible] who [illegible] of [illegible] "[illegible] all the [illegible]."

Franklin said many things that [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] than [illegible] He has [illegible] very dear for his whistle.

Washington made but few epigrammatic speeches. Here is one: "To be prepared for war is the most effectual means of preserving peace."

Did you ever hear of old John Dickinson? Well he wrote of America in 1768: "By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall."

Patrick Henry, as every school boy knows, gave us "Give me liberty or give me death," and "If this be treason make the most of it."

Thomas Paine had many quotable epigrammatic sentences: "Rose like a rocket, fell like a stick." "Times that try men's souls." "One step from the sublime to the ridiculous," etc.

Jefferson's writings are so besprinkled that it is difficult to select. "Ind[illegible] spur [illegible]"

"Few die and none resign" is certainly as applicable to office holders now as in Jefferson's time.

Josiah Quincy, Jr., said: "Whensoever, [illegible] shall be called on to make our exit, we will die free men."

Henry Lee gave Washington his immortal title: "First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

Charles Cotesworth Pinckney declared in favor of "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute."

"Peaceably if we can, forcibly if we must," is from Josiah Quincy, 1811.

John Adams did not say "Live or die, survive or perish, I am for the Constitution," but Daniel Webster did say it for him.

The revolutionary age alone would give us our article had we time to gather the pearls. Coming down we pass greater but not more famous men for

Davy Crockett, the illustrious author of "Be sure you're right, then go ahead."

Andrew Jackson gave us "The Union must be preserved."

Benton almost lost his original identity in "Old Bullion" from his hard money doctrines.

Governor Throop of New York was called "Small Light Throop" for years from a phrase in a Thanksgiving proclamation.

Scott's "hasty plate of soup" lasted his life time.

Taylor's battle order, "A little more grape, Captain Bragg," will be quoted after he is forgotten by "all the world and the rest of mankind."

Seward is known for the "irrepressible conflict" wherever the English language is spoken.

Marcy's patched breeches are as well remembered as his State papers.

Rufus Choate gave us "glittering generalities."

Our own Bill Allen the Chinese Gong is responsible for "54 40 or fight."

Tom Corwin's "welcome with bloody hands to hospitable graves," one of his noblest utterances, gave him more unenviable criticism than any other saying of his life.

Calhoun gave us "State rights" as a most pernicious and absurd equivalent for national supremacy under the Constitution.

Douglas applied "squatter sovereignty," though it is probable that Cass invented and Calhoun named it.

Stringfellow was the original "Border Ruffian."

War times gave us no end of epigrammatic utterances. Those of Lincoln alone would fill a volume. Chiefest of all these that noble, god-like sentiment, "With charity for all and malice toward none."

McClellan's chief exploit was to make us acquainted with the phrase "Change of base."

Grant gave us "fight it out on this line," "unconditional surrender," "I propose to move immediately upon your works," "bottled up," and a hundred others. It seems to have escaped notice that Grant is responsible for more of these characterizing elementary crystalizations of thought than any military leader of modern times.

Sherman first gave utterance to the great truth showing at once statesmanship and military sagacity: "The Confederacy is a shell," and he had the rare felicity of practically demonstrating his own theorem by the March to the Sea.

Sheridan's character and his style of fighting are expressed by "Sent them whirling up the Valley."

Pope's unfortunate orders from "Headquarters in the Saddle," gave Gen. Lee opportunity for the one solitary joke of his life time: "What can you expect of a General who puts his headquarters where his hindquarters ought to be?"

Butler, more incisive with the pen than with the sword, cut through one of the knottiest problems of the war with the name, "Contraband."

The corner stone of the Brooklyn tower for the East River bridge, a block of limestone weighing 5,800 pounds, was laid on the 14th of June. The caisson for the New York side is to be somewhat larger than the one now in place.

The State of Pennsylvania has brought a suit against the New Almaden Quicksilver Mining Company of California, for the sum of $100,000. The case is set for trial on the first Monday of December.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many [illegible] [illegible] of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence in the effects of [illegible] indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured face and the broken-down constitutions disqualified [illegible] for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. [illegible] shocking situation thousands suffer until death loses the scene. Let parents, guardians [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] those who are suffering with any of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made [illegible] diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted [illegible] those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases, and often dash in posing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and [illegible]. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions [illegible] [illegible] self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of [illegible] sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: [illegible] [illegible] dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania, and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was ever cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtaining medical aid.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who with a great sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and their places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trade. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus life certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial (Private Entrance on Commercial), San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. [illegible]
